Mineral Park, May 1.

The real glove fight occurs when a woman tries to put a No. 6 glove on a No. 7 hand.

Many a male brute who snarls and growls at his wife in public is very loving and tender when no one else is around. He has to be.

Two couples in Kansas entered into a courting match for the championship of the State, and the victorious couple sat up forty-nine hours.

A man always looks through his pockets four times before handing his coat to his wife to have a button sewed on, and even then he is filled with a nameless fear until the job is completed.

"What is the meaning of the word tantalizing," asked the teacher. "Please, marm," spoke up little Johnny Holcom, "it means a circus procession passing the school house, and the scholars not allowed to look out."

"Jane, what letter in the alphabet do you like best?" "Well, I don't like to say, Mr. Snobbs." "Pooch, nonsense! tell right out, Jan— which do you like the best?" "Well," dropping her eyes, I like 'U' the best.

The delicate way for a widow, who marries the brother of her first husband, to allude to her first consort, is always to speak of him as "my deceased brother-in-law," if any one stumbles on his picture in an album and wants to know whose likeness it is.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive," as the young man said when he imprinted a kiss on his sweetheart's lips. "I think so, too," she replied, as she returned the salute, and thus two hearts were made happy by a single quotation.

"How do you regulate the clock?" said the local watchmaker to a Scotch bellman when called upon to repair the clock in the church steeple. "I just shovel some gravel into it if it goes too fast," was the reply. "And what do you do if it goes too slow?" "Pick some gravel out, of course, ye fule."

It is all nonsense to talk about indications and assays made from picked specimens and argue therefrom that you have a mine. If you have a mine the output will show it, and until you show sufficient pay ore to place the property where it will yield a profit you have not a mine, however favorable the indications may be.—Ex.

Few people know the meaning of the word Pinnacle, the title of the San Diego county mining district of that name, but if they have ever seen any of those black tumble-bugs which stand directly on their head when touched, or when they hear a noise, they will know exactly what it means, and if they smell of the bug, they won't forget it.—Los Angeles Herald.

In discussing the mother-in-law question the Boston Transcript calls attention to the fact that there was one married man who never had a mother-in-law. His name was Adam and he had not been married twenty-four hours before he got into trouble. If he had had a mother-in-law she would have kept a close watch over the apples and neither Eve nor Adam would have got a chance at them.—Detroit Free Press.

The highest bridge in the world is the railroad viaduct of Garabit, in France, now being erected over a river in the department of Cantal. The bridge has a total length of 564 meters—say 1,880 feet—and near the middle of the great center arch, which is the most remarkable feature, the height from the bed of the river to the rail is 124 meters, or 413 feet. The viaduct was begun in 1881, and is to be completed next year. It is estimated to cost about £12,000.

A Chicago paper says the latest joke at the expense of David Davis is that a little daughter of John Oberly, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Illinois, and a neighbor of the Judge, was taken out walking one day near the lordly mansion of the ex-Senator, and when her father asked if she saw Judge Davis she lisped, "No, I walked all round there and I didn't see Judge Davis on the fence." The story got out, and ever since then John has kept his distance.

A suspender company in this city has made an assignment. This may have been caused by the men who braced up too often with the same old pair—rock and rye.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Sheriff Paul to-day noon auctioned off the Gunsight property to Charles Hudson, Esq., he being the highest bidder, as follows: Mill, $40; Eastern lode, $41; Silver Girl, $40; Gunsight mill site, $45; 160 acres, $40; total, $206.—Tucson Citizen.

He merely sent her the following brief epistle, and now there is to be a wedding:
"Paddle your own canoe," They told me long ago; In mine there's room for two— Will you a boating go?

A French lion-tamer quarreled with his wife, a powerful virago, and was chased by her all around his tent. On being sorely pressed, he took refuge in the cage among the lions. "Oh, you contemptible coward!" she shouted, "come out if you dare!"

A well-meaning person gives hints telling "How to live on seventy-five cents a week." There is such a thing as being too close, and most editors will just keep on squandering eighty cents a week, even if they see ruin staring them in the face.—Texas Siftings.

At the Whitehaven collieries, England, where they have been mining since 1667, they have a pumping engine which has been at work since 1806. It is one of Newcomen's at mospheres, and is constantly in use, and is still in first rate order, after working about seventy nine years, being about the only one of the class extant.—Mining and Scientific Press.

"I hate to see a woman with rings in her ears!" exclaimed the deacon. "They ain't natural. If it was intended for woman to wear them she would have been born with holes in her ears. The first woman didn't wear earrings, I'll be bound." "No," remarked the quiet little man in the corner, "nor nothing else." The discussion was brought to an abrupt close, and the house adjourned without delay.

The Girard mine and mill were yesterday sold under execution, and bid in by Judge G. G. Berry for the amount of the execution and costs—$47,909.04. Under the new management this valuable property, which has been lying idle so long, will start up, and will soon become one of the steady bullion producers of the camp. Under the old regime it stood as a monument to the fallacy of the non-assessable plan of mining operations.—Tombstone Republican.

Gentle reminder: Husbands are so stupid. The story of the June "Drawer" of a man who went to town with his wife to do errands and was sorely perplexed as his missing something on his return until he reached home and found that he had forgotten his wife, reminds somebody of a woman in Philadelphia who gave her husband six commissions to execute in New York. He telegraphed back that he had executed five and forgotten the last. It was an order for an illuminated sentence for a Sunday-school room. He was a good deal astonished when he received the reply: "Unto us this day a child is born—two feet wide and nine feet long."—Editor's Drawer in Harper's Magazine for August.

A company has been formed by several Kansas parties known as the Erie Cattle Co. to go into the cattle business on a large scale in this county. They have purchased or taken up Mud Springs, near the lower end of the Salsheim mountains, and by clearing out and enlarging them have an abundance of water for a large number of stock. The capital stock of the company is fixed at $83,000. Among the projectors are H. H. Whiting, B. F. Browne and E. A. Shattuck. Articles of incorporation were filed with the county recorder to-day.—Tombstone Republican.
